Philosophy

At Kyneton Kindergarten we embrace play-based learning and the natural environment, and endeavour to embed sustainable practices within our programs. This includes a focus on natural resources.

Learning experiences at Kyneton Kindergarten are based on children's needs, interests and abilities and are carefully planned by qualified early childhood teachers and educators.

We believe that every child should have the same opportunities in their early education, and support children to develop their imagination, creativity, knowledge and skills.

We engage children in an indoor/outdoor program where they are given opportunities to move between learning environments according to their own needs and interests.

We value and recognise the Taungurung people as the traditional custodians of the land on which we learn and play and ensure that the culture of our first nation's people is acknowledged and embedded in our Kindergarten program.

Community focused

Located in the education precinct of Kyneton

We offer:

- Inviting play spaces furnished with natural and homely furniture and décor
- North facing kindergarten rooms which invite lots of natural light into these spaces.
- Learning areas are planned and arranged to engage children's interests and provide opportunities for both individual, small and large group learning
- An architecturally designed outdoor play space with areas dedicated to both active and passive play. Gardens that have been planted with sustainability in mind and a kitchen garden area which the children are engaged in during all seasons of the year.
